Technical Analysis – Commodities to watch:

The below trend direction analysis is based on an assessment of the daily technicals. Use more detailed technical analysis e.g. indicators, support and resistance, sentiment: COT, Open Interest etc. for possible trade entry, exits and stops.

Bullish Opportunities:

Rough Rice: Look for break up through 13 level?

FCOJ (Orange Juice): pay attention to the weather as we're now in hurricane season!

WTI Crude Oil: Look out for $43 / $49 range breakouts in either direction.

Not behaving as it should:

Bearish Opportunities:

WTI Crude Oil: Look out for $43 / $49 range breakouts in either direction.

Cotton No2: Breaking south on bad Chinese economics – more to come?

Live & Seasonal Cattle: Look for more downside.

Weekly Technical Analysis: 25/09/15

Energies:

After a bullish rally WWI Crude has ranged steadily between $49 and $43 – look for breakouts. Gasoline, although seasonally still bearish has gone more sideways as has Heating Oil.

Weekly Technical Analysis: 25/09/15

Metals:

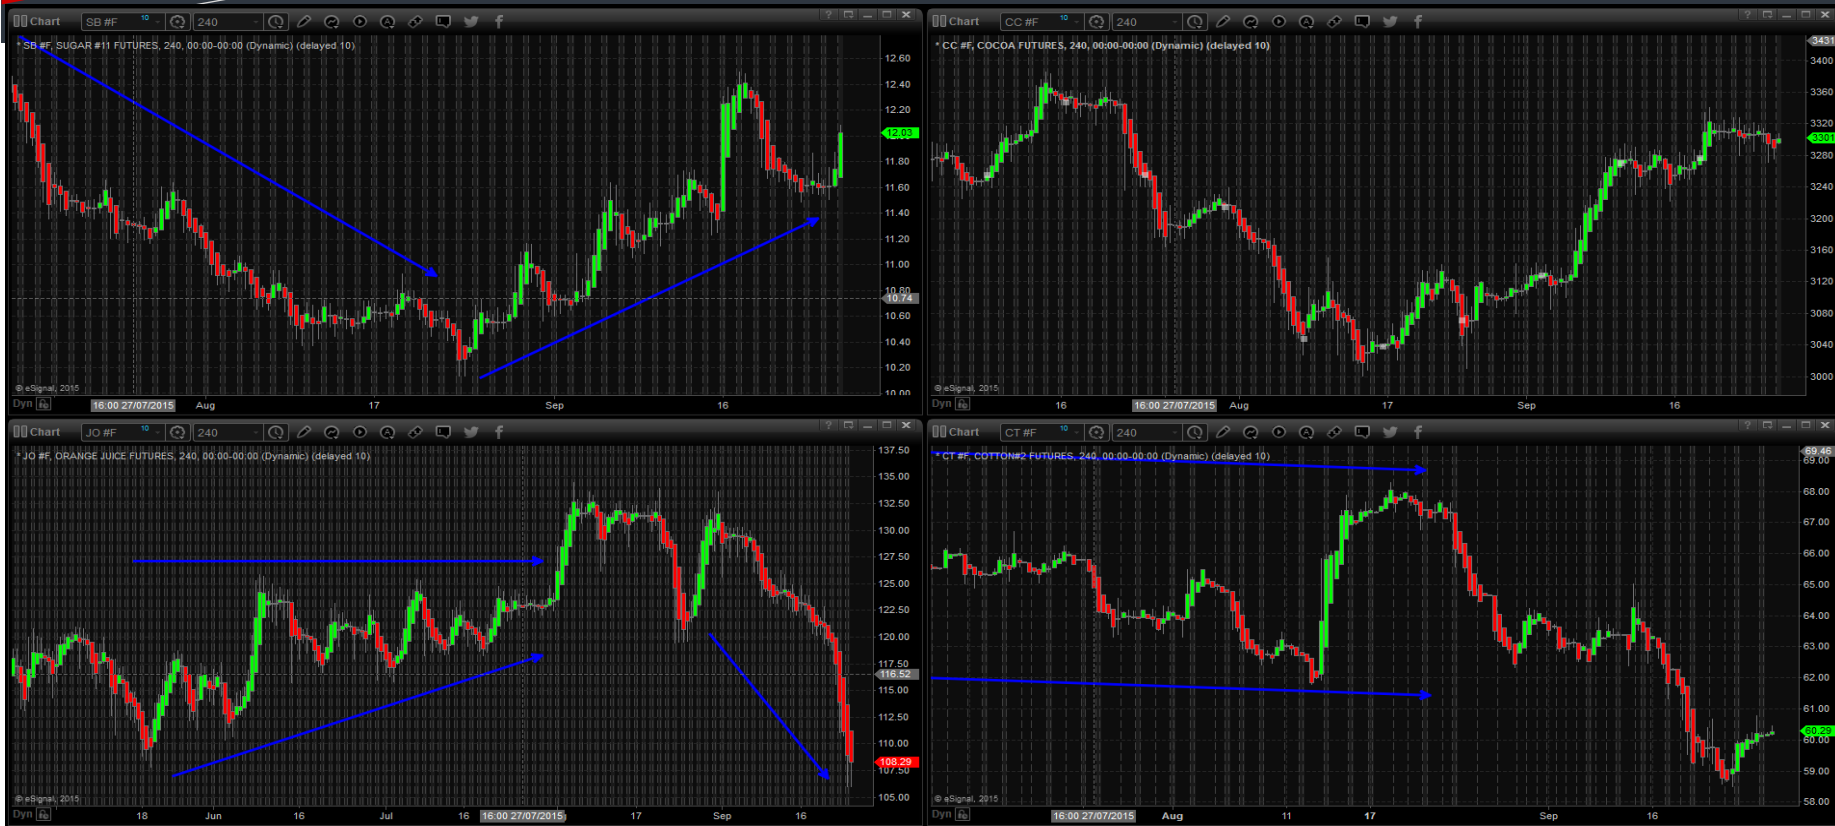

Gold has picked up 4% over the last few months but looks to have limited upside. Next resistance around the $1165 area. Copper bounced off its lows but spent most of last week heading back toward them but may have found support around the LME $5000 level which equals 2.3 on the COMEX Copper chart.

Weekly Technical Analysis: 25/09/15

Softs:

Orange Juice had a reasonable sell off to May lows but is still vulnerable to the upside as we now are into hurricane season. Sugars put in further gains. Cocoa went flat and historically enters a bearish price month ahead of bullish winter period. Cotton as expected broke down with possible more downside to come if Chinese data out this week/ month turns bad.

Weekly Technical Analysis: 25/09/15

Meats:

Question is – has the cattle market done all its selling? Not sure. Still both Live and Feeder Cattle look weak. Lean Hogs put in a good up run but could be getting exhausted as seasonality factors ebb away.

Weekly Technical Analysis: 25/09/15

Grains:

Rough Rice struggling to break the 1300 level. Rest of the complex looks neutral to bearish. October is normally a mixed month in terms of market direction for grains.
